

DONATING REUSABLE GOODS

Donating your unwanted goods to the organizations or businesses listed in this guide provides needed items to people who want them, preserves natural resources, and helps to keep landfills free of usable goods. All donated items should be clean, not torn or stained, and in working condition (unless noted otherwise). If you wish to include your donation to a nonprofit organization as an income tax deduction, you will need to get a receipt.

BUYING AND SELLING REUSABLE GOODS

In addition to the many community agencies which welcome donations of goods, there are many places where you can buy or sell used items. This give-and-take approach is a wise strategy for reducing waste. We encourage you to patronize both non-profit and commercial operations which further the reuse ethic. If you are interested in purchasing a used item, some of the best places to look are thrift stores, consignment shops, classified ads, specialty stores, and yard/garage sales. A garage sale event for South Santa Clara County is held each year. Call 778-6480 for details.

- Thrift Stores - Local thrift stores are an excellent place to donate and buy a wide variety of reusable goods. Check the yellow pages under thrift stores.
- Consignment Shops - Consignment shops are often a good source for buying and selling higher quality used clothing or furniture. Sellers bring used items to the store where they are then sold for a profit. When the item sells, the store gives you a percentage of the selling price. Look in the yellow pages under consignment furniture, antique, or clothing shops.
- Classified Ads - The classified ads in your local newspaper are a great place to find used items for sale. If you are selling a used item, be sure to list it in the classifieds.
- Specialty Stores - Look for stores specializing in the particular item you are interested in. For example, a surf shop may buy and sell used wetsuits, or a bike shop may buy and sell used bicycles. Check the yellow pages, and call around. Many specialty stores also maintain either indoor or outdoor bulletin boards which advertise used goods.
- Garage Sales, Yard Sales and Rummage Sales - Other ways to encourage reuse of durable goods are through holding your own yard sale or by donating items to local civic groups, school groups, or churches that hold periodic rummage sales and/or flea markets as fundraising events. To find out about these sales check the classified ads in the local paper or call the organizations.

FREECYCLING

Freecycling is when one person passes on, for free, an unwanted item to another person who needs that item. Over 8 million people worldwide are choosing to Freecycle rather than discard, freeing up space in landfills and cutting down on the need to manufacture new goods. There are both Morgan Hill and Gilroy Freecycle™ groups. Go to www.trashnothing.com and click "Join Now" to sign up for one or both of our local Freecycle groups today!
